Welfare Workers Stage Strike

ASK PAY INCREASE AND NEW ADMINISTRATOR

For several days rumors had been rife of a pending strike by those employed on welfare relief work. "More money" was the principal objective, and also a demand for a change in the county administration management.

This Thursday morning was the time set, and early forenoon hours found men arriving for the purpose of backing up the demands made by their leaders. Jess R. Benroth of Maple Forest, an avowed socialist, was spokesman for the crowd. He was supported by Roy Newberry and Percy Harmer of Frederic and George Wendt of Grayling.

A telegram sent to the state department brot representatives to Grayling to meet with the strikers. It reads as follows:

William Haber, Relief Administrator, Lansing, Michigan.

Relief conditions this county entirely unsatisfactory. All relief workers ready to strike next Thursday morning unless following changes are made.

New Welfare Administrator.

Increased Wages.

Assurance that we will receive our full share of all Federal Commodities furnished this State.

These conditions not met at once organization will be started in adjoining counties.

Relief Workers Union of Crawford Co., Demands Committee.

Francis Reagan, field representative; R. A. Hunter, regional examiner and Martin A. Holland, regional engineer, all from the state welfare department, received the strikers and heard their demands.

Most of the strikers, it appears, were engaged in highway construction work, and Mr. Reagan assured them that the work would be held up until such time as this matter was amicably adjusted and everyone was happy again, and that when that time arrived that their jobs would be awaiting them. He also assured them that nobody is going hungry while we are not working.

Further he offered the suggestion that he would hold meetings in each township of the county wherever there were grievances and talk over each and every individual problem personally. He would start immediately on this work and continue it until everyone has been heard, beginning in Frederic this afternoon at 2:00 p. m. Mr. Reagan asked the crowd if that plan was satisfactory.

Roy Newberry, one of the grievance committee men said that that would be all right "if you are working for the benefit of the people of Crawford county." "That's just what I am doing," replied Mr. Reagan.

When asked about the distribution of food stuffs, over which there seemed to be considerable fault found, Mr. Reagan explained that it had been customary to issue bulletins telling of allotments that were to come to the state and districts, and many times the allotments never reached Michigan. He cited a report that we would receive 3 car loads of oranges, but none arrived. The same with 24 car loads of sugar, none of which was received. These held out false hopes and many times the people of some counties felt that other counties were receiving these things and that they were not, and it caused a lot of dissatisfaction. Bulletins are no longer issued until such time as the supplies actually reach their respective destinations.

The differential in wages paid in some counties with that paid in other counties was brot up. The local rate is 30c an hour which was determined by the basis rate paid for labor locally, and that, it was explained by Mr. Reagan, is the way the rate of wages was arrived at.

There was much confusion and much talking, however increased wages seemed to be the principal concern of the strikers. A few felt that they had grievances against the local welfare administrator and demanded removal. All these things, Mr. Reagan, agreed, would be fairly and honestly dealt with, and that everyone will be given opportunity to express himself.

Secure Mike Gorman Banquet Toastmaster

Genial, popular Mike Gorman has again been secured to act as toastmaster at the combined banquet of the East Michigan Tourist Association and the North-Eastern Michigan Development Bureau to be held in Bay City October 9. Mr. Gorman, editor of the Flint Journal, is widely known throughout this section for his ability as a toastmaster and master of ceremonies, in either of which capacity he is most capable. He was first introduced to Bay City and North-East Michigan by the Log Office and since his debut has been an anticipated annual speaker. His remarks never fail to invoke much favorable comment.

Mr. Gorman is particularly adapted to adjusting his remarks to fit the occasion. He seldom plans ahead for a banquet or gathering. On the event of one Association-Bureau dinner, Secretary T. F. Marston handed him the program but a few moments before the appointed time. The program went forward, however, just as successfully as if he had planned for months.

Through his repeated appearance in connection with the Log Office and its activities, Mr. Gorman has become an East Michigan institution. He serves in some official capacity on many programs each year.

Chaplain's Weekly News Letter

Fourth Forestry District

Hartwick Pines led last week in church attendance with a total of 170; AuSable was second with a tally of 125 and Pioneer third with 108.

The district will be delighted to learn that the orders which would have resulted in Capt. Betts leaving us have been rescinded and that our present District Commander will therefore be with us, we sincerely hope, many months to come.

Lt. and Mrs. Hartley were Sunday visitors at Camp Higgins Lake where Lt. Hartley was formerly stationed. He is now attached to Camp Glennie in the 3rd District but will soon move to Camp Johannesburg in the 5th District.

Congratulations to Lt. Allen of Camp AuSable who has recently been advanced to the rank of First Lieutenant.

Lt. Miller of Camp Hartwick Pines has been designated "Athletic Director" of the district. He is busy arranging the fall inter-camp activities and will soon have an interesting announcement to make.

Camp Hartwick Pines has installed, at an approximate cost of $125.00, new tables for the mess hall and by way of celebration gave a dinner to the entire camp which beggars description. We knew from former contact with him that Lt. Wahlborn is an expert in the culinary department and he proved his increasing skill anew when he planned that meal of last Thursday—stuffed celery, olives, pickles, anchovies, salted nuts, tomato soup, fried chicken, creamed asparagus, hot rolls, mashed potatoes and gravy, fruit salad, coffee, cantaloup a la mode, cigars. There was plenty for all—so much that some of the boys spurned breakfast the next day. The Chaplain was pressed into service as master of ceremonies and graceful speeches were made by Capt. Betts, Lt. Allen, Mr. Borgenson, Prof. Mofsky. Much of the success of the evening was due to the indefatigable labors of Lts. Shovar and Miller.

Hartwick Pines beat AuSable at baseball on Saturday, 7 to 1.

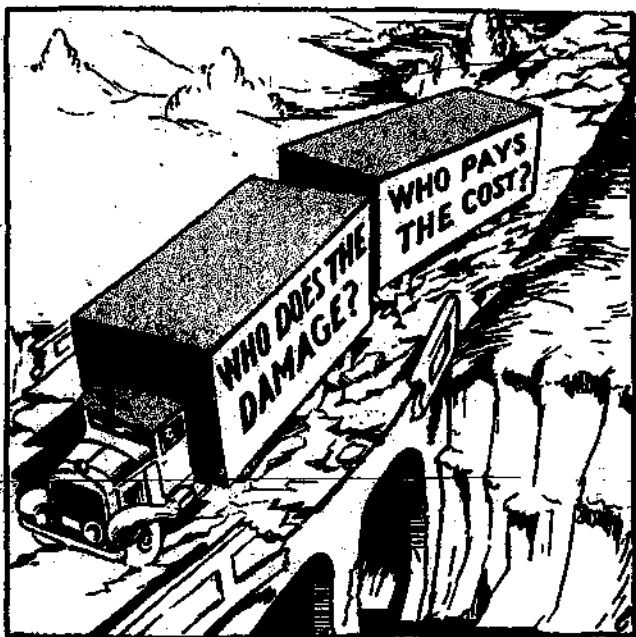

About a dozen of the MECW Office Force in Lansing were entertained by Supt. Hodgins at dinner at Camp Higgins Lake last Saturday night. Most of them were young ladies anxious to dance and have a good time. "Bob" Hodgins proved himself equal to the occasion in every way.

News for the fine four-page paper started by Adviser Merritt at Camp Pioneer is gathered by eight reporters covering every field of camp activity. From the last issue of "The Tatler" we learn that Lt. Cropp is starting two classes of rather an unusual nature—one is a class for leaders—another is a class for cooks. That Barrack number three won the prize for being the neatest during August and each man was given a free movie ticket or 25 cents in trade at the canteen. That $100.00 has been authorized for construction of new mess tables. That any enrollee absent without leave for one or more days will be required to cut, split and pile a cord of wood for each day's absence in addition to a fine of one dollar. His sentence must be worked out before another pass can be issued to him. That camp leaders meet every Thursday night to discuss any suggestions made for the betterment of the camp. That a pool table will soon be purchased for the recreation hall.

The Supervisor personnel of the MECW in this district including the Camp Superintendents are going to combine business with pleasure and every now and then get their feet under the same table for the purpose of good fellowship and the exchange of ideas. As an initial step in this direction about twenty including Superintendents Hodgins, Ferris, and Dawson met at dinner at the Rendezvous in Gaylord last Friday. The occasion was sort of a farewell to the college men, who are about to return to school. Interesting talks were made and it is hoped that many such discussions around the table will be scheduled this winter.

OFF TO COLLEGE

Several young Grayling people are planning to enter college this fall, while others are returning to continue their studies. Monday Miss Jayne Keyport left for Nashville, Tenn., for her senior year at Ward-Belmont School; Miss Betty Welsh left the same day for Alma to resume her studies at Alma college and Miss Elaine Reagan returned to the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor to begin her sophomore year. Nels Olson is entering Michigan State College at Lansing, leaving the forepart of the week also.

Within the next two weeks others will be going. Miss Veronica Lovely returning to Central State Teachers College, Mt. Pleasant, and Miss Georgianna Olson will enter this same institution. Miss Gail Welch expects to enroll at Olivet college, where also Charles Wyllie will be resuming his studies.

both Camp AuSable and Camp Hartwick Pines. Lt. Shovar is teaching Algebra twice a week and Lt. Miller is teaching French. A new text-book on the "Fundamentals of Salesmanship" has been received for use in a class by that name taught by enrollee Schilder. A drum corps of five is being drilled by Max Laage, Forest Superintendent of AuSable Forest.

Gaylord Potato Show November 6-7-8

The dates of the 11th Annual Top O' Michigan Potato and Apple Show have been changed to November 6, 7, and 8, due to October 1, November 1 and 2 conflicting with the Annual Extension Workers Conference at Michigan State College. This action was taken by the Board of Directors of the Top O' Michigan Potato Show Association at a special meeting in Gaylord on September 17.

It is the belief of the Directors and Officers that the change in dates may be more satisfactory for the Show in general, as indications point towards a late digging season this year. Plans were made by the Directors for the addition of several educational features in the 1934 Show which will add to the practical value to the large number of patrons.

LIKE AN ARABIAN NIGHTS ADVENTURE

Lady Dorothy Mills, distinguished traveler, explorer and novelist, relates a remarkable experience while visiting the castle stronghold of a mountain Prince in Morocco. Read the article in The American Weekly with Sunday's Detroit Times.

Putting On The Dog

He was a candy salesman. From his tailored shirt and his matching tie to the tip of his ten dollar shoes he looked like MR. PROSPERITY himself.

As I looked him over I thought: "It takes money to keep up like that. His stuff must be good. Other merchants must be buying it. Guess I'll look it over." I bought.

Another mental reaction might have been, "This man dresses too well for these times. He must make too much profit. I'll bet he is some kind of gyp artist." This would have been counteracted by the fact that the man represented a reliable house. Having bought goods for a number of years I quickly realized that his prices were competitive and his goods of excellent quality.

By contrast, this salesman recalled an unpressed, dirty-tied traveling man who had been in my place of business the week previous. He had told me that business was fine. I later learned that he had gone at some length with a friend across the street to inform him that the depression was all a matter of imagination. My friend had said, when he stopped for breath, "My, I wish I were as drunk as you are."

Defeated By Laxness

However this would-be salesman was simply content to assure me that business was good, very good with him. Somehow I splenored against his untidiness. I later scolded myself for so doing, but I just couldn't help the momentary feeling rising within me. I couldn't warm up to him. I didn't buy. Optimism can be defeated by laxness.

When You Hold Up Your Head

"When you hold up your head and your standards and do your best someone down the street who admires you tries to measure up, others who like him do the same, and soon the whole community is living on a higher level. . . in several particulars."

Fitzgerald Thanks The Voters

"I am sincerely grateful for the wonderful endorsement the people of Michigan gave me on Sept. 11. If it were possible, I would like to extend my personal thanks to everyone who voted for me and I shall endeavor to conduct my affairs in a way that they will not have cause to regret their support," Frank D. Fitzgerald asserted after being assured that he had secured the Republican nomination for governor by a fine majority.

His nomination won almost individual acclaim in the Michigan press. Typical of the comment upon the result of the Republican primary is the following editorial by Hon. Muri H. DeFoe in the Charlotte Republican-Tribune.

"The victory of Frank D. Fitzgerald in Tuesday's primary is outstanding. It is more than a tribute to a popular man and his years of public life; it is a definite notice from the rank and file of the party that new blood is out in front and expects recognition. In many counties new names and energy sponsored the Fitzgerald campaign. These men are willing to serve the type of leadership promoted by Fitzgerald but they will not long mark time waiting for an occasional call for service. Another fine thing about the Fitzgerald victory is the lack of threatened backfire from other political factions and parties. The Grand Ledge citizen alluded many times to the ability of his opposition within his own party and the meanest thing he ever said about Governor Comstock and his associates was that they were, in his opinion, inexperienced for a tough job at any time, but particularly during the bewildering period of the present."

As soon as the outcome of the Republican primary was certain, Former Governor Alex J. Groesbeck wired Mr. Fitzgerald his congratulations and "best wishes." The telegram was conclusive proof that the primary campaign had not disrupted a friendship of nearly 20 years.

ATTEND LEGION CONVENTION

Grayling Legionnaires and their wives had the time of their lives at the annual state convention, that was held in Traverse City last Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Traverse City did themselves proud in entertaining what was estimated as 10,000 visitors from all over the state. Those of the local people who attended voted it the best state convention yet. Registration and general headquarters was at the Eagles Temple, and although the weather was bad with intermittent showers the crowd made merry anyhow. At the business meeting Flint was chosen as the convention town for 1935. The main feature of the Traverse City meeting was the big parade that was staged Saturday afternoon, with floats, bands and bugle corps from all sections of the state. Pontiac drum and bugle corps carried away the honors in a contest for the best.

Among the some fifty who attended the convention from Grayling, there were: Mr. and Mrs. Otto Failing, Mr. and Mrs. William Jensen, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Rasmussen and the latter's sister Mrs. Rodgard of Flint, Mrs. Wilfred Laurant, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hewitt and daughters Phyllis and Rose Marie, Emil Giegling and son Roger, Mr. and Mrs. Neil Matthews and two children, Mr. and Mrs. John Deckrow and children, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Church, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Jorgenson, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Wythe, Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Peterson, Mrs. Clyde Peterson, Mr. and Mrs. John Erkes, Mr. and Mrs. Holger Hanson, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Nelson, Clarence Johnson, Aleck Alderson, Orel Levan, Harold Edwards, Jack McMillan, Paul Feldhauser, Mrs. Elizabeth Swanson.

CHILD SPECIALIST TO LECTURE HERE

This is to remind parents that Mrs. Lydia Ann Lynde, the Specialist from Michigan State College, will give her third, and last talk on child problems at the Grayling school auditorium on Friday afternoon, Sept. 21 at 8:00 p. m.

The two previous lectures were chiefly on child behavior. The last lecture is to deal with parents and their influence upon the children. In addition to the lecture, Mrs. Lynde will have an exhibit of home made toys which are copies of rather expensive toys used in nursery schools. These toys are all rather simple in construction

30 Days In Jail For Robbing Autos

Sheriff Frank Bennett doesn't fool when he catches people robbing automobiles, and sent two Detroit youths to jail for 30 days on such a charge.

Frank Watkowski and Walter Marek, members of OOC camp No. 681, were caught last Saturday night in the act of attempting to steal from an automobile belonging to John Papendick and placed under arrest. They were held in jail over Sunday and on Monday they appeared in Justice Petersen's court where they failed to enter a plea, whereupon a plea of not guilty was entered and trial set for Friday morning.

At the trial both boys, each of whom is 18 years of age, charged their plea to guilty. Whereupon they were sentenced to serve 30 days in jail, without the alternative of a fine.

Considerable complaint has been turned into the sheriff's department this summer of car robberies and Sheriff Bennett and his officers and Village Marshal Bert DeFaine have been on the watch for offenders. Several parties under suspicion have been watched for several weeks and the arrest of Watkowski and Marek is an outcome. Others too are being watched and no doubt sooner or later will be apprehended.

On the night these boys were arrested they were discovered inside the Papendick car, according to Sheriff Bennett, but when he got to them both were outside of the car. With Bennett were Night Marshal DeFaine and Deputy Sheriff Papendick.

Purchases from local stores are many times deposited in cars by their owners and quite often it is found that some of the goods are stolen. The stealing of gasoline and other petty thievery is common anywhere but the local officers say that they intend to make it tough for those that they are able to apprehend and convict.

It is quite likely that when Watkowski and Marek are released from jail that they will be given dishonorable discharge from their OOC company.

It's a tough break for the boys, who brot it upon themselves, and also their parents who no doubt are at home feeling that their boys are contributing to the work of recovery.

and may offer suggestions to any ingenious daddy who would like to make toys for Christmas presents.

Those who have heard Mrs. Lynde at the previous lectures have been well pleased with her talks. We are sure that all parents will find the last lecture to be even more interesting.

She will lecture Friday, Sept. 21 at Maple Forest town hall at 8:00 p. m.

NEARLY always in the case of a marine disaster persons come forward with accusations of negligence and misbehavior on the part of the officers and crew of the vessel concerned. This is true now of the Morro Castle, the Ward liner which burned eight miles off the New Jersey coast with a loss of 135 lives.

The Morro Castle, large, swift, and luxurious in its appointments, was returning from a seven-day cruise to Havana. Her master, Capt. Robert Willmott, had died of heart disease only a few hours before the tragedy, and William F. Warne, chief officer, was in command. With 12 other officers and members of the crew he stood by the blazing ship until the hull was towed to Asbury Park and beached.

Several of the surviving passengers testified before the federal steamboat inspection board that no alarm was sounded and that little or no aid was given the pan-stricken passengers by the members of the crew. Then George W. Rogers, chief radio operator, and his first assistant, George I. Alagna, told of the delay in sending out the S O S call, asserting they could not obtain an order for it from the bridge. This, of course, was explained by the usual reluctance of steamship officers to call for help because the salvage charges are heavy. Alagna was put under arrest as a material witness after he had told his story to a federal grand jury. The value of his testimony was somewhat lessened by Rogers' admission to both the board and the grand jury that Alagna had been distrusted by Captain Willmott as a radical and an agitator, and that Alagna some months ago tried to instigate a riot on the ship as a protest against the food served the crew.

The first actual evidence indicating that the fire was of incendiary origin was furnished by Quartermaster Gus Harmon.

"It was like the flash of a 16-inch gun," he declared. "It couldn't have been gasoline because it traveled much faster. It might have been some sort of chemical, all of which would light up when one point of it started. There was a funny acrid smoke coming out of the flash."

Other officers of the ship testified that they believed the fire was of incendiary origin and was fed by gasoline or chemicals, but they could suggest no motive for such a horrible crime. Acting Captain Warne said he based his opinion that the blaze was incendiary on two facts: First, because on August 27, on a previous voyage to Havana, there was a suspicious blaze in the No. 5 hold; second, because reports to him indicated that the writing room locker, in which the fatal fire started, exploded. The flames, he explained further, acted "like gasoline or kerosene" and fire extinguishers had no effect on them.

The chief of the secret service in Havana declared the burning of the Morro Castle was an act of sabotage by members of a secret international maritime association that takes its orders from Communists in Moscow.

SENATOR HUET LONG won handsomely in his fight for absolute control of Louisiana, his candidates for congress, state supreme court and public service commissioner, defeating those of the "old guard." The election was quite peaceful despite the prediction of bloody "civil war."

The Klugefish is now expected to press his investigation of graft and corruption in the affairs of New Orleans and to undertake to have his arch enemy, Mayor T. Semmes, Walmsley, ousted from office through action by the legislature, which he controls. Huey is now the virtual dictator of the state, but his opponents have not given up the fight.

NEW DEALERS rejoiced in the results of the Maine election, though their victory was incomplete. Gov. Louis J. Brand, Democrat, was re-elected by a substantial majority over the Republican candidate, Alfred K. Ames, a wealthy and aged retired lumberman. Senator Frederick Hale, veteran Republican, was returned to the upper house for his fourth term, but his majority over Harold DuBord, dynamic Democratic nominee, was so slender that Hale must have felt rather humiliated. The New Dealers won two of the three congressional seats.

Maine was the pioneer prohibiting state, but in this election it abandoned its 50-year-old policy and joined the wet list, voting for repeal by a large majority.

I wish to express my appreciation to those who voted for me in the late primary election. Perhaps I should not have expected success after four weeks campaign against an opponent who has had better than four years.

FAIR WILL CLOSE FOREVER OCT. 31

Biggest Events of Whole Chicago Exposition Are Ahead.

Chicago.—"The exposition closes definitely and forever October 31. It will not open next year."

With that statement made in response to a question put by Mayor Edward J. Kelly of Chicago, Lenox H. Lohr, general manager of A Century of Progress, spiked the rumors flying about the country that the World's Fair was to be a permanent institution.

After October 31 the magic fairyland that has thrilled tens of millions of sightseers from every corner of the globe for two years will fade into memory as miraculously as it sprang up. Moving in to replace the gay throngs whose laughter and carnival spirit resounded over Chicago's lake front will be crowds of workers, going methodically about their solemn business of demolishing the world's greatest show.

Plan New Spectacles. Meanwhile the rush is on. From the south, east, west and north the millions are coming for their last look at the Fair. They have finally awakened to the realization that never again will they see anything like it. This, coupled with the advent of cool, sunny fall weather for which Chicago is noted, is expected to make the final weeks of the exposition record-breaking in attendance.

Despite the announcement of the closing October 31, none of the attractions of the Fair—the fascinating scientific and industrial exhibits, the gigantic free shows, the fine music, the happy midway with its breathtaking rides and unique shows, the unmatched transportation exhibits—will be altered before the end. Rather, the Fair has plans under way for spectacular special events of a magnitude to dwarf anything Fair-goers have yet seen.

Famed Scenes Become Memories. But on Nov. 1 the axes will begin to fall. Gone will be the quaint foreign villages, with their charmingly authentic reproductions of life and scenes in fifteen lands scattered all over the earth. The spires of picturesque Old Belgium, the towers of sunny Italy, the winter loveliness of the Black Forest, the white arches and bright minarets of Tunis, the rich romantic lore of Merrie England—all these will leave Chicago's lake front, to be seen again only after thousands of miles of travel across the seas.

Gone will be the happy crowds whose merriment filled the cafes, the rides, the shows and even ripped with the spirit of the Fair under the turquoise banners of the majestic Avenue of Flags. Gone will be the jeweled setting of the lagoons, with the thousands of lights uniting earth and sky in a gigantic kaleidoscope of mobile color.

Travel Costs Reduced. Listed among the best-loved features of the Fair, which will fade into the past with the Fair are Wings of a Century, great transportation pageant with a cast of 200 actors and the largest collection of ancient vehicles ever assembled, which has already played to an audience of more than 2,000,000; the House of Magic, where a great scientific laboratory is turned inside out to make the mysteries of test tubes do stunts for the entertainment of Fair-goers; the world's largest fountain, which pumps enough water to supply a city of 1,000,000 people; and the spectacular water carnival and circus of the free lagoon theater.

Monsters Died of Cold

Research indicates that the great prehistoric reptilian monsters of North America died of cold, caused by change of climate, rather than by enemies. The tilling of great land masses dried up their swamp-like homes.

Monkey Sees, Monkey Does at Fair

Whether it was because they wanted to imitate him or not, the monkeys on Frank Buck's Monkey Island at the World's Fair in Chicago had a pie-eating contest of their own after getting a glimpse of Reynold Olsen, who won a recent Children's day pie-eating contest. The monkeys' banana pies were not so decorative as Reynold's blueberry, however. The Monkey Island is one of the hundreds of Fair sights which will fade forever when the exposition closes Oct. 31.

Youngsters Throng Fair's Enchanted Island

The pony ranch, ever an attraction at the Chicago World's Fair, is the center of daily throngs of youngsters such as these. Right now they are taking advantage of the ideal weather to get their fill of the children's wonderland before the Fair closes its gates forever and becomes only a pleasant memory after Oct. 31. Huge new spectacles are planned for the final weeks.

Fair's Doll Baby

A finger ring fits snugly over the arm of Baby Olga, who weighs only 725 grams and is the smallest baby in the infant incubators at the World's Fair in Chicago, as Nurse Evelyn Mann demonstrates here. Cool fall weather and the announcement that the exposition closes forever Oct. 31 are drawing daily throngs.

ROOSTER NIGHT, SEPT. 29

Every Grange is supposed to hold a Rooster meeting at that time and Crawford Grange is planning on making this a very enjoyable affair. There will be a short business meeting at 8:00 o'clock for the purpose of taking care of the new names to be brought in for membership. Then a program is being arranged that all may have the best time ever. Be sure to come early and have your share of new names. There will be a supper—such a supper as you will not want to miss, later in the evening. This is for all Grangers and Granger-minded friends.

Remember the date, the fifth Saturday, Sept. 29.

Robert Tibbets has been returned to the camp hospital, after being confined to Mercy Hospital at Grayling several weeks following an attack of appendicitis and pneumonia. He is making a rapid recovery.

Winter clothing has been requisitioned by Sherd Baily, the company's supply sergeant. This includes such items as shoes, shirts, underwear, overshoes, hats, gloves, and overcoats.

An appropriation of $100 has been made for construction of new mess tables at this camp. They will be built as soon as a competent carpenter is secured.

A porcupine that wandered into the camp area last Thursday afternoon was shot by Lieut. Cropp.

The camp newspaper known as "The Pioneer Tattler," a hectographed sheet, was increased to four pages with this issue and a staff of eight. The scribes are Frank Labadie, Glenn Stevens, Richard Sewell, Ronald O'Sell, Roy Jones, John Kubilus, Alex LaSota and Hugh Wentz. The publication is supervised by Leslie Merritt, the educational adviser. Over a hundred copies are distributed around the camp.

Two former enrollees in this company who have recently been married are Condon and Sprague.

A number of boys on company overhead have decided to sponsor a camera club and have asked Dr. Igloe to instruct them. They plan to make pin-hole cameras, the parts for which cost 25 cents, develop and print their own pictures.

Despite frequent rains of the past two weeks practically no time has been lost on the work projects. The men wait out the bad showers or work later at night to get in a full week.

A number of enrollees will be leaving the company at the end of the month, having completed a year or more's enrollment in the CCC's.

GRAYLING BAND ENJOYS PICNIC

Grayling Band members with their families and friends held a most enjoyable picnic at Lake Margrethe last Sunday.

Through the courtesy of Lt. John Erikson and Mr. Schell, one of the new mess halls was donated for their use, which was greatly appreciated. At one o'clock several of the people were seated at long tables which were nicely decorated with garden flowers, and abundantly laden with food.

Cards and music furnished the entertainment for the afternoon. Every one reported a most enjoyable time and hoped for more of such gatherings in the near future.

The days of the "3 R's" have returned for 1,382,630 of Michigan's school children . . .

Railroad taxes—$7,829,198 in 1933-34—go directly toward the education of those youngsters.

Railroad taxes are the bulwark of our primary school fund. But now those tax payments are in danger.

Unfair, inequitable competition, particularly from unregulated trucks, has so cut into the railroads' income that their tax payments have become a problem. If this situation continues those tax payments inevitably must stop.

To the extent that the railroads are destroyed as a source of tax revenue the payments they now make will have to fall upon the citizen. *

Can he afford, then, to permit the job of transportation to be shifted largely from a tax-yielding agency—the railroad—to a tax-consuming form of transport? Is he ready to take on this added tax burden?

The railroad problem is deplorable, but not beyond remedy. It can be solved within our legislatures.

Our next Michigan legislature should see that motor trucks and buses are taxed to meet fully the costs to the public which their operation entails; that they submit to regulations comparable with those governing the railroads, and, in addition, that they contribute equitably to the general expense of government.

Michigan and the "3R's" need the railroads. And the railroads need constructive legislation. It is only fair that they be given at least an equal chance.

Don't Shoot Hen Pheasants

"Don't be too quick on the trigger! Be sure your bird is not a hen."

This is the warning broadcast by Dr. P. F. English, game cover specialist of the Department of Conservation, to pheasant hunters who plan to open the upland game-bird hunting season in the lower peninsula October 15.

"Although state law forbids the shooting of a hen pheasant a number of hens undoubtedly are shot each year through carelessness and left in the fields to rot," English says. "The hunter should remember that good pheasant hunting in Michigan is largely dependent upon natural propagation. The preservation of the hens therefore is of vital importance."

"Each hen pheasant is capable of hatching 10 or more young pheasants each year," English says. "It is obvious that the law is wise in protecting the hen bird and that hunters should cooperate to assure the continuation of their own sport."

Sunshine Recorder
A sunshine recorder is an instrument for indicating the duration of sunshine. One form is a spherical lens, whose focus moves with the sun and leaves a scorched path on a curved strip of paper. Another form is a dark chamber, in which the rays, admitted through a minute hole, trace a line photographically on sensitized paper.

Close Contests Mark Primaries

The recent primary elections were marked by close contests in many sections of the state. This fact was brought to the attention of the department of state by the numerous requests for information relative to the proper methods of recounting ballots.

Many contests for state senator and state representative were decided by narrow margins as were the contests for state offices in many counties.

Under the state law, the department is required to furnish all newspapers with copies of proposed constitutional amendments and other questions prior to the general election. These copies are to be mailed out within the next 10 days and voters will have ample opportunity to study the proposed changes.

"Little Stories for Bedtime" by Thornton W. Burgess

A QUEER BREAKFAST

A LONG lane leads from Farmer Brown's barnyard down to his cornfield on the Green Meadows. Very early one morning Peter Rabbit took it into his funny little head to run down that long lane. Now at a certain place beside that long lane was a gravelly bank into which Farmer Brown had dug for gravel to put on the roadway near his house. As Peter was scampering past this place he caught sight of some one very busy in that gravel longest and of the color of his back. The other feathers were slaty gray with little black bands and tipped with white. On his wings were a few scattered black spots, and there was one under each ear. But it was the sides of his neck which were the most beautiful part of Mournar. When untouched by the Jolly Little Sunbeams his neck appeared much like his breast, but the moment the sides were touched by the Jolly Little Sunbeams they seemed to be of many colors constantly changing, which, as you know, is called iridescence.

But it was not Mournar's appearance which made Peter stare. It was what he was doing. He was walking about, and every now and then picked up something, quite as if he were getting his breakfast in that gravel pit. Peter couldn't imagine anything good to eat there. "Hello, Mournar!" he cried. "What under the sun are you doing in there? Are you getting your breakfast?"

"Hardly, Peter, hardly," cooed Mournar, in the softest of voices. "I'm picking up a little gravel for my digestion." He picked up a tiny pebble and swallowed it.

"Well, of all things!" cried Peter. "You must be crazy. The idea of thinking that gravel is going to help your digestion. I should say the chances are that it will work just the other way."

Mournar laughed. "I haven't the least doubt that a breakfast of gravel would give you the worst kind of a stomach-ache," said he. "But you are you and I am I, and there is all the difference in the world. I eat grain and I have a stomach which I have to swallow whole. As part of my stomach is called a gizzard, and its duty is to grind and crush my food so that it may be digested. They pebbles and gravel help grind food and so aid digestion."

—T. W. Burgess—WWD Service

"Well, of all things!" cried Peter. "You must be crazy."

Pit. Peter stopped short, then sat up to stare. It was Mournar the Dove whom Peter saw. His body was a little bigger than that of Welcome Robin, but his slender neck and longer tail and wings made him appear considerably bigger. His shape reminded Peter at once of the pigeons up at Farmer Brown's. His back was grayish brown, varying to bluish-gray. The crown and upper parts of his head were bluish-gray. His breast was reddish-buff shading down to a soft buff. His bill was dusky, and his feet red. The two middle feathers of his tail were
